National Organizations for Youth Safety®

The National Organizations for Youth Safety (NOYS) is a 25-year-old coalition of over 100 federal agencies, industry leaders, and nonprofit organizations that promote youth safety through education, engagement, and empowerment. NOYS looks at the most prevalent causes of preventable injury and death among youth (ages 13-24) and mobilizes the coalition around coordinated efforts to reduce these tragedies. We also work closely with teachers, educators, and school administrators on the development and implementation of peer-to-peer education. As a coalition, NOYS reaches over 9 million annually.
